

SAFETY IN NUMBERS

Working Together from Research into Practice

April 28—29, 2003
Hyatt Regency Atlanta Hotel

EXHIBITOR'S PROSPECTUS

INVITATION TO EXHIBIT

Dear Colleague:

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), National Center for Injury Prevention and Control (NCIPC) invites you to exhibit at its national conference, Safety in Numbers: Working Together from Research to Practice, to be held April 28–29, 2003, at the Hyatt Regency Atlanta Hotel in Atlanta, GA. More than 700 health and safety professionals will attend the conference, which will address a broad range of interests, including surveillance systems, risk and protective factors, program development and evaluation, and implementation and dissemination. Exhibitors will be in a position to attract public health officials, physicians, researchers, teachers, school counselors, students, policymakers, law enforcement officials, health educators, injury coordinators, firefighters, and community leaders.

The conference goals are to:

- Promote knowledge and awareness of successful approaches to prevent injury and disability, prevent premature death, and reduce human suffering.
- Bring together experts in the field of injury prevention and control to exchange ideas and explore opportunities to collaborate.
- Inform participants about the latest advances in injury research.
- Enhance attendees' programmatic and research skills, abilities, and effectiveness.
- Provide networking opportunities to develop and strengthen partnerships among attendees.

For more information about the conference, visit the NCIPC website at www.cdc.gov/ncipc/conference/registration.htm. To exhibit at our conference, please refer to the enclosed information sheet and application form.

We look forward to your participation in the Safety In Numbers Conference.

Sincerely yours,

Trevia K. Pereira
